Body and Blood of Christ

pah

God is as near to us as our breath and beating heart, which makes God the most intimate and essential aspect of our life and being. The Incarnation, God uniting with humanity in the person of Jesus of Nazareth, was for the first time, the living body and blood of Christ. In his life, he gave us his words, his example both as teachings and guides for how we were to become in turn, the living body and blood of Jesus as he has given to us.

His final act of mercy and love was to leave us both his living presence of who he was truly and essentially and in turn through the Eucharist, for us to become what he had shown us and taught us. In the simple form of bread and wine, this is both our God who feeds us, but is in truth who our God is. When we look at the consecrated host, we do not have to imagine who God is, but can plainly see. Our God is simple, uncomplicated, accessible, without pretense, and desires to be embraced by us, to be taken within our person and to allow our God to be united with us.

Each time then that we receive the Eucharist we are sharing and experiencing the Incarnation within ourselves: the Divine unites with our humanity in that moment. Like Jesus, who throughout his lifetime would come to a deeper appreciation of the profundity of his relationship with God, we are with each reception of the Eucharist, have the opportunity to also come to this place of profound and liberating relationship with our God.

Receiving the Eucharist is less about duty and obligation or being worthy and holy enough. It is about having a hunger for this union with God, that can never be entirely satiated, because we are not capable of appreciating and understanding the God who is being given to us. Still, we receive.

“Remember that when you leave this earth, you can take with you nothing that you have received - only what you have given: a full heart, enriched by honest service, love, sacrifice and courage. Start then by doing what's necessary; then do what's possible; and suddenly you are doing the impossible” St. Francis of Assisi

"We have all known the long loneliness, and we have found that the answer is community. With prayer, one can go on cheerfully and even happily. Without prayer, how grim a journey. If I have achieved anything in my life, it is because I have not been embarrassed to talk about God. Don't worry about being effective. Just concentrate on being faithful to the truth. No one has a right to sit down and feel hopeless. There's too much work to do."

Dorothy Day

PRAYING FOR and WITH OUR LOVED ONES

Let us remember in our prayers those who have recently died, Anne Heffernan, Fr. Bill Russell, and Jim Sheehan

Let us keep in our prayers those in Nursing Homes, Retirement Residences or are shut-ins.

In a special way, let us pray for the health and well being of Jack Holland, Joe Ross, David Rundle, & Patti Simmons.

Dear God, I lift up my loved one to you today and ask for your healing touch. I ask that you would surround them with your love and healing power, bring them relief from their pain and comfort to their heart. I trust in your goodness and your faithfulness and know that you are able to do more than we can imagine. Amen

"How many of you say: I should like to see His face, His garments, His shoes. You do see Him, you touch Him, you eat Him. He gives Himself to you, not only that you may see Him, but also to be your food and nourishment"

St. John Chrysostom

St. Joseph's C.W.L. 90th Anniversary

As a parish community, we will celebrate this momentous occasion of the C.W.L. being here in the parish of St. Joseph's for 90 years, on Sunday June 9th.

The C.W.L. Diocesan President will be present and with in the mass there will be the presentation of years of service pins and the installation of the new Executive.

Following the mass there will be a parish picnic on the church grounds, hosted by the Knights of Columbus. All are welcome.

"Nobody escapes being wounded. We are all wounded people, whether physically, emotionally, mentally, or spiritually. The main question is not, 'How can we hide our wounds?' so we don't have to be embarrassed, but 'How can we put our woundedness in the service of others?' When our wounds cease to be a source of shame, and become a source of healing, we have become wounded healers. Compassion asks us to go where it hurts, to enter into the places of pain, to share in brokenness, fear, confusion, and anguish. Compassion challenges us to cry out with those in misery, to mourn with those who are lonely, to weep with those in tears. Compassion requires us to be weak with the weak, vulnerable with the vulnerable, and powerless with the powerless. Compassion means full immersion in the condition of being human."
